AMERICAN FLYERS SMASH NON-STOP RECORD

REMAIN IN THE AIR MORE THAN 24 HRS. THE FORMER TIME

MAKE FLIGHT IN ALL METAL LIMOUSINE, HEATED FROM EXHAUST, TAKE PROVISIONS

WENT UP AT 8:50 A. M. THURSDAY
AND STILL IN AIR AT 9:20
THIS MORNING

(By United Press.)

Mineola, N. Y., Dec. 30.—America today established a new record for continuous airplane flight. The record, 26 hours, 19 minutes and 50 seconds, corrected unofficial time, was made by Edward Stinson and Lloyd Bertraud in an all metal monoplane limousine.

The previous record, 24 hours, 19 minutes and 17 seconds, was made in France and established in June, 1920.

Mineola, N. Y., Dec. 30.—The world's record for a non-stop flight was broken today by Edward Stinson and Lloyd Bertraud in a limousine all metal monoplane.

At 9:20 a. m. the machine was still flying, and the previous record of 24 hours, 19 minutes and seven seconds, was smashed. This mark was established in France in 1920. The aviators went up at 8:59 a. m. yesterday.

The machine, bucking bitter gales, kept going, the intention of the aviators being to establish a record of their own. The two men in the machine were flying at an altitude of about 800 feet and believed to be in good condition. They were in a closed cabin heated by motor exhaust and were well supplied with coffee and provisions.

Aviators who were watching the flying believed fuel might be running low as the machine was forced to skim within one hundred feet of the ground owing to low visibility caused by snow.

An announcement that the record had been broken was made by the Aeronautics Chamber of Commerce aviator experts watching the flight.

The machine zoomed up around a twenty mile circle over the towns of Hempstead and Mineola. Great searchlights lighted the flying field at night so that a forced landing could be made if necessary and the aviators would have no trouble to keep their bearings.

Stinson and Bertraud, working in the plane, agreed on before they started they were to take turns at the wheel.

The machine which broke the record was owned by John Larson. It carried at the start 350 gallons of gasoline and 28 gallons of oil.

GRAIN ACREAGE THIS YEAR ABOUT THE SAME AS LAST

(By United Press)

Washington, Dec. 30.—The winter wheat area sown this fall totaled 44,293,000 acres, which is one and two-tenths less than the area last fall, the department of agriculture estimated today. Last year's total was 44,847,000 acres.

The condition of the winter wheat on December 1 was 76 per cent compared with 87.9 in 1920, and an average of eighty-nine per cent for the last ten years.

Rye sown this fall totaled 5,184,000, or 22 per cent more than 1920, and a total of 4,228,000 acres.

TRY GOV. SMALL FOR CONSPIRACY TO DEFRAUD STATE

Waukegan, Ill., Dec. 30.—The state late yesterday nolleed the charge of embezzlement against Governor Len Small.

C. C. Le Fay, for the defense objected and demanded the governor be given a trial.

Judge Clair C. Edwards of the Lake county circuit court nolleed the indictment and the only charge remaining against the governor is that of conspiracy to defraud the state.

Judge Edwards of the circuit court earlier in the day had upheld the indictment charging Governor Small with embezzlement of $500,000 of state funds and nine of the 13 counts of an indictment charging the governor, Lieutenant Governor E. Sterling and Vernon Curtis, a banker, of Grant Park, Ill., with conspiracy and operating a confidence game involving $2,000,000 in state money.

The court had ordered the governor to trial Jan. 9 at 3:30 o'clock on the $500,000 embezzlement charge.

Judge Edwards sustained the attorneys for the governor and Mr. Curtis in part by quashing an indictment charging them, together with Mr. Sterling, with embezzlement, of $709,000 and quashed three counts charging conspiracy and the one charging confidence game in the other joint indictment.

ARBUCKLE WILL BE TRIED AGAIN

(By United Press.)

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 30.—Roscoe Arbuckle will be tried a second time for manslaughter growing out of the death of Virginia Rappe, unless something entirely unforeseen appears within the next few days to alter this determination. Both District Attorney Mathew Brady and Gavin McNab, of Arbuckle's defense, agreed on that statement today.

Not only did they agree that the trial would proceed, but both were making preparations highly elaborate for it. "We insist that Arbuckle be retried without delay and will oppose any attempt to postpone the case," McNab declared, speaking for the defense.

"We will be ready and anxious to go ahead January 9th," was the statement from the district attorney.

U. S. MAY DEMAND FRANCE PAY DEBT IMMEDIATELY

AS A MEANS OF CAUSING HER TO ABANDON BIG SUBMARINE
POLICY

LEGISLATORS THINK IF SHE HAS MONEY FOR SUBS SHE COULD PAY DEBT

(By United Press)

Washington, Dec. 30.—America may demand that France immediately pay her debt to this country as a means of forcing her to abandon her big submarine fleet policy.

Amendments to the foreign debt refunding bill are being prepared. One of these to be presented to the senate will direct that the demand be made on France for payment of interest and principal of the debt. This debt amounts to between two billion and three million dollars.

France, of course, could not pay it off if the United States demanded it. The idea back of the proposed demand is that the United States would serve notice on France that the American public and official opinion heretofore extremely friendly, had undergone a chilling, because of the French attitude.

Other amendments to the bill similar in import, have begun to take form at the capitol. They all carry the idea that if France has money to spend on a huge navy and army, she ought to have some to pay off her war debt.

France Ready to Confer on Limit and Use of "U" Boats

Paris, Dec. 30.—France is ready to participate in any conference designed to limit and regulate the use of submarines. It was semi-officially stated here today. France also is prepared to abide by any international rules which might be formulated at such a conference.

Jap Homeland Excluded From Four- Power Pact

Washington, Dec. 30.—The homeland of Japan will be excluded from the application of the four-power Pacific treaty, according to an authoritative statement here today.

Already Secretary of State Hughes and Baron Shidehara of Japan, ambassador here, are said to have reached an agreement to the understanding that the islands constitute Japan proper, are not included within the terms of the pact.

Washington, Dec. 30.—Ten thousand tons as the limit for cruisers was agreed on by the naval disarmament committee today. This decision amounts to elimination of competition in cruiser construction is subject only to approval from Paris—an approval which is expected shortly.

The session was concerned mainly with discussion of the proposition to make illegal any use of submarines against merchantmen.

The British amendment making the new ruling applicable immediately to the five great powers, was debated extensively with the result that France, Italy and Japan asked their governments for instructions.

No serious objection to the proposal was raised by the conferees, and an American delegate predicted the home governments will adhere to the proposal.

TWO SCREEN STARS BECOME NEWLYWEDS

(By United Press)

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 30.—Lottie Pickford, sister of "Little Mary" and herself a former motion picture favorite, is to marry Allen Forrest, actor, on January 7th, according to a rumor current in Hollywood.

Forrest did not deny the report. Miss Pickford, however, expressed surprise that "such an odd rumor was in circulation."

Lottie Pickford was divorced a year ago from Albert G. Rupp, of New York, to whom she was married in 1912. She charged Rupp with desertion. The screen was congratulating two more newlyweds here today, following the marriage of Jack Mallhall and Evelyn Winans, a famed San Francisco beauty.

AMERICANS ENTER THE OIL FIELDS OF SOUTH AMERICA

(By United Press.)

Buenos Aires, Dec. 30.—America at last has entered the oil game in Argentina and Bolivia, where English, German, Belgian and other foreign capital has always been put to work.

In Argentina, American capital commonly reported to be that of the Standard Oil Company, has been invested in the new field in the territory of Neuquen, where drilling is now going ahead with excellent prospects. In Bolivia, the Standard Oil group recently obtained control of a huge amount of acreage held by the Braden interests.

Argentina's oil future is so bright that it is commonly believed among oil men that this country will prove to be one of the world's great producing centers when it is adequately developed. Bolivia also is known to possess possibilities of very great production. The Bolivian territory, however, because of the distance from market and the difficulties in the way of development, generally has been considered by experts as a reserve for the future.

For some years American geologists scouting for powerful companies have been making detailed studies of prospective oil fields in this part of South America. While it has been known that reports almost uniformly were hopeful, no development work was undertaken, largely, it is understood, because the American companies were not satisfied with the laws regulating petroleum developments that were in force. So little was done, in fact, that "the Americans come, then the Americans go" became a proverb among those interested in the industry in Argentina.

Powerful British interests, as well as German capital under the direction of Hugo Stinnes and others and money from other nations, entered the field in the face of legal objections. They have now acquired such large interests that Americans practically were forced in self-defense to take definite action. The first American purchase in Argentina was the ground being developed by the "Compania Petroleo de Challeco" in Neuquen, this company being directed by Argentines. Three drilling rigs are now on the ground there. It is understood that drilling operations will be actively pushed.

American manufacturers of oil-well and refining supplies and allied products should begin to look toward Argentina as a large potential market. In the opinion of the many American petroleum experts now in the country.

While Argentina is already producing oil in at least two good fields, the industry has not yet passed out of the swaddling clothes stage. In addition to tools for drilling, it will be necessary to purchase thousands of tank cars eventually, pipe for casing, tankage, vehicles for oilfield transport, tankships and barges, roadmaking machinery for facilitating transport in the fields, refinery supplies, construction material for refineries and re-loading stations, and many other like products.

Because United States is the home of the oil industry and has always led in the development of the entire industry, it may expect a large share of the business that will be the outcome of the development here. Since practically everything remains to be done in the industry in this country, American firms selling oil field products still may enter the market on practically even terms with those of other countries.

FATAL SHOOTING FOLLOWS QUARREL OVER AUTOMOBILE

(By United Press)

Oklahoma City, Okla., Dec. 30.—A sheriff's posse today hunted Oklahoma county in search of Schnell Rector, an Oklahoma City insurance agent, who is wanted in connection with the death of E. W. Brindley, president of the Mustang State bank, who was shot and killed in front of his home at Mustang last night.

The fatal shooting was said to have followed a quarrel over possession of an automobile.

NEW FEDERAL TAX BILL SAVES SEVEN DOLLARS PER CAPITA

(By United Press.)

Washington, Dec. 30.—Every man, woman and child in the United States will start the new year with a direct saving of $7.00 in federal taxes which during the year will expand to four times that sum.

Under the new revenue act which becomes effective January 1, $700,000,000 in taxes is lopped from the budget which experts of the treasury department stated today that four times that figure will accrue for taxpayers due to peculiar operations of the economic law.

Many of the changes in the revenue act will not benefit certain classes of taxpayers until 1923, but the average wage earner will effect an immediate saving in his income as well as in other taxes. Under the new act the head of the family is exempt $2500 instead of $2,000.

HARDEST WORKERS HAVE MOST KIDDIES

(By United Press.)

Washington, Dec. 30.—Tell the census bureau your job and it will tell you how many children you should have.

Overseers and mine foremen head the list of American shop workers with an average of four and six-tenths children each. The marines bring up the rear with only one and eight-tenths per man. Newspaper men beat the marines, but cannot touch the overseers. They rate two and one-tenths in the parental average.

As a general thing, men who work hardest have the largest families. Farmers, blacksmiths and clergymen run over three children a piece. So do paperhangers, doormen and boot-blacks. Skating rink managers and linotype operators average above two and one-half children apiece.

BAD FIRE AT QUINCY, MASS

(By United Press.)

Quincy, Mass., Dec. 30.—Four persons were reported injured and seven buildings were destroyed or partially damaged in a fire in the heart of the business district here today.

A FARM CREDIT SYSTEM MUST BE ESTABLISHED

OR THE NATION WILL HAVE AB-SENTEE LANDLORDISM AND TENANCY

SAID PRESIDENT COULTER OF N.
D. FARM SCHOOL—ADVOCATES
BANKS UNDER CHARTER

(By United Press.)

Fargo, Dec. 30.—If an adequate system of agricultural credits is not provided, the nation will have absentee landlordism and tenancy and "we may expect real trouble," President John Lee Coulter, of the Agricultural College, told the second annual convention of the North Dakota Farm Bureau Federation today. Five points of credits are submitted by the farmers, he said: Long time farm loan credit, building and improvement loans of ten to fifteen years, production credits, mortgage credits and special credits—an example of which is to bring modern convenience into the farm home.

Adjustment of present bank facilities to the needs of agriculture and establishment of a system of banks similar to the Federal farm loan banks under state charter, was advocated.

If municipalities are permitted to issue tax exempt securities, Federal and state land banks should be permitted it also.

All officers of the State Farm Bureau Federation were re-elected at the annual business meeting last night.

TWO SCREEN STARS BECOME NEWLYWEDS

(By United Press.)

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 30.—Lottie Pickford, sister of "Little Mary" and herself a former motion picture favorite, is to marry Allen Forrest, actor, on January 7th, according to a rumor current in Hollywood.

Forrest did not deny the report. Miss Pickford, however, expressed surprise that "such an odd rumor was in circulation."

Lottie Pickford was divorced a year ago from Albert G. Rupp, of New York, to whom she was married in 1912. She charged Rupp with desertion. The screen was congratulating two more newlyweds here today, following the marriage of Jack Mallihall and Evelyn Winans, a famed San Francisco beauty.

OPPONENTS TO IRISH TREATY ADMIT IT WILL BE RATIFIED

(By United Press.)

London, Dec. 30.—Sinn Fein officials in London opposed to the ratification of the Anglo-Irish treaty conceded today the bill would ratify by a majority of from 6 to 12.

PRESIDENT PARDONS POLITICAL PRISONER

(By United Press.)

Washington, Dec. 30.—President Harding has granted Herman Dirks, convicted under the espionage act, a New Year's pardon, it was announced at the White House today. Dirks has never actually been in jail.

AMERICANS ENTER THE OIL FIELDS OF SOUTH AMERICA

(By United Press.)

Buenos Aires, Dec. 30.—America at last has entered the oil game in Argentina and Bolivia, where English, German, Belgian and other foreign capital has always been put to work. In Argentina, American capital commonly reported to be that of the Standard Oil Company, has been invested in the new field in the territory of Neuquen, where drilling is now going ahead with excellent prospects. In Bolivia, the Standard Oil group recently obtained control of a huge amount of acreage held by the Braden interests.

Argentina's oil future is so bright that it is commonly believed among oil men that this country will prove to be one of the world's great producing centers when it is adequately developed. Bolivia also is known to possess possibilities of very great production. The Bolivian territory, however, because of the distance from market and the difficulties in the way of development, generally has been considered by experts as a reserve for the future.

For some years American geologists scouting for powerful companies have been making detailed studies of prospective oil fields in this part of South America. While it has been known that reports almost uniformly were hopeful, no development work was undertaken, largely, it is understood, because the American companies were not satisfied with the laws regulating petroleum developments that were in force. So little was done, in fact, that "the Americans come, then the Americans go" became a proverb among those interested in the industry in Argentina.

Powerful British interests, as well as German capital under the direction of Hugo Stinnes and others and money from other nations, entered the field in the face of legal objections. They have now acquired such large interests that Americans practically were forced in self-defense to take definite action. The first American purchase in Argentina was the ground being developed by the "Compania Petrolero de Chalicco" in Neuquen, this company being directed by Argentines. Three drilling rigs are now on the ground there. It is understood that drilling operations will be actively pushed.

American manufacturers of oil-well and refining supplies and allied products should begin to look toward Argentina as a large potential market, in the opinion of the many American petroleum experts now in the country.

While Argentina is already producing oil in at least two good fields, the industry has not yet passed out of the swaddling clothes stage. In addition to tools for drilling, it will be necessary to purchase thousands of tank cars eventually, pipe for the construction of pipelines, pipe for casing, tankage, vehicles for oilfield transport, tankships and barges, roadmaking machinery for facilitating transport in the fields, refinery supplies, construction material for refineries and re-loading stations, and many other like products.

Because United States is the home of the oil industry and has always led in the development of the entire industry, it may expect a large share of the business that will be the outcome of the development here. Since practically everything remains to be done in the industry in this country, American firms selling oil field products still may enter the market on practically even terms with those of other countries.

FATAL SHOOTING FOLLOWS QUARREL OVER AUTOMOBILE

(By United Press.)

Oklahoma City, Okla., Dec. 30.—A sheriff's posse today hunted Oklahoma county in search of Schnell Rector, an Oklahoma City insurance agent, who is wanted in connection with the death of E. W. Brindley, president of the Mustang State bank, who was shot and killed in front of his home at Mustang last night.

The fatal shooting was said to have followed a quarrel over possession of an automobile.

Robbers Secure $100,- 000 Worth of Booze

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Bandits today broke into the home of Charles A. Stonehill of Glencoe, near here, stealing $100,000 worth of rare wines and liquors. The robbers smashed into the liquor vault and overpowered the armed guards stationed there.

NEW FEDERAL TAX BILL SAVES SEVEN DOLLARS PER CAPITA

(By United Press.)

Washington, Dec. 30.—Every man, woman and child in the United States will start the new year with a direct saving of $7.00 in federal taxes which during the year will expand to four times that sum.

Under the new revenue act which becomes effective January 1, $700,000,000 in taxes is lopped from the budget which experts of the treasury department stated today that four times that figure will accrue for taxpayers due to peculiar operations of the economic law.

Many of the changes in the revenue act will not benefit certain classes of taxpayers until 1923, but the average wage earner will effect an immediate saving in his income as well as in other taxes. Under the new act the head of the family is exempt $2500 instead of $2,000.

HARDEST WORKERS HAVE MOST KIDDIES

(By United Press.)

Washington, Dec. 30.—Tell the census bureau your job and it will tell you how many children you should have.

Overseers and mine foremen head the list of American shop workers with an average of four and six-tenths children each. The marines bring up the rear with only one and eight-tenths per man. Newspaper men beat the marines, but cannot touch the overseers. They rate two and one-tenths in the parental average.

As a general thing, men who work hardest have the largest families. Farmers, blacksmiths and clerks run over three children a piece. So do paperhangers, doormen and bootblacks. Skating rink managers and linotype operators average above two and one-half children apiece.

BAD FIRE AT QUINCY, MASS

(By United Press.)

Quincy, Mass., Dec. 30.—Four persons were reported injured and seven buildings were destroyed or partially damaged in a fire in the heart of the business district here today.

Firemen were hampered by severe cold. Help was called from Boston and other surrounding towns. Early estimates of the loss was placed at about $2,000,000.

Call Conference to Assist Agriculture

(By United Press.)

Washington, Dec. 30.—Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, will call an agricultural conference in the near future, it was learned authoritatively today.

The White House late today will make public a letter from President Harding to Wallace suggesting that he call a conference for the purpose of getting agriculture out of its distressing financial condition, it was learned.

A FARM CREDIT SYSTEM MUST BE ESTABLISHED

OR THE NATION WILL HAVE AB- SENTEE LANDLORDISM AND TENANCY

(By United Press.)

SAID PRESIDENT COULTER OF N. D. FARM SCHOOL—ADVOCATES BANKS UNDER CHARTER

(By United Press.)

Fargo, Dec. 30.—If an adequate system of agricultural credits is not provided, the nation will have absentee landlordism and tenancy and "we may expect real trouble," President John Lee Coulter, of the Agricultural College, told the second annual convention of the North Dakota Farm Bureau Federation today. Five points of credits are submitted by the farmers, he said: Long time farm loan credit, building and improvement loans of ten to fifteen years, production credits, mortgage credits and special credits—an example of which is to bring modern convenience into the farm home. Adjustment of present bank facilities to the needs of agriculture and establishment of a system of banks similar to the Federal farm loan banks under state charter, was advocated.

If municipalities are permitted to issue tax exempt securities, Federal and state land banks should be permitted it also.

All officers of the State Farm Bureau Federation were re-elected at the annual business meeting last night.

Sears, Roebuck Head Gives $20,000,000 to Tide Company Over

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Julius Rosenwald today used $20,000,000 of his personal fortune to carry Sears, Roebuck & Company, mail order house, through the period of depression.

Rosenwald bought $16,000,000 worth of real estate from the company of which he is president and made it a present of a large block of stock.

Denatured Alcohol Or Gas Cause Two Deaths in Minneapolis

(By United Press.)

Minneapolis, Dec. 30.—Two men were found dead in a room house on Eighth avenue North, early today. A jug of denatured alcohol half filled was beside them.

Two gas jets in the room were open. One man was Swen Nelson, 35, and the other has not been identified.

Police were unable to determine whether their death resulted from alcohol or from the gas which had filled the room.

Urge the Farmers to Cut Wheat Production

(By United Press.)

Fargo, N. D., Dec. 30.—Rex Willard, farm economist, declaring he was speaking for the agricultural college, told the State Farm Bureau Federation that it should urge farmers to cut wheat production in this state ten to twelve per cent. The supply now exceeds the world's demand by twelve per cent, he said.

Is an Atom Like a Clock?

Sir Joseph Larmor has suggested that an atom may be analogous to a clock. The outer electron system of the atom, on which its chemical and spectroscopic properties depend, and which has certain definite rates of oscillation, would correspond to the pendulum, or better, to a compound pendular system of a clock, he says. The inner core of the atom is similar to the spring of a clock, which, by means of the escapement, slowly imparts its energy to the pendulum in a jerky fashion.

WATCH NIGHT SERVICES DECEMBER 31

Peoples Congregational Church to Have Devotional Service Starting at 11 P. M. Saturday

REV. CADWELL WILL PREACH

Topic Will be "The World's Greatest Conflict"—South Side Program Planned

A watch night service will be held at the Peoples Congregational church Saturday evening, December 31. The young people will meet and spend an enjoyable hour after which a lunch will be served at 10 o'clock.

Devotional service will start at 11 o'clock with song and prayer with a few minutes for testimony and praise for the blessings of God during the past year. The Salvation Army people are uniting with the Peoples Congregational church for this service and this assures plenty of good singing.

Rev. J. E. Cadwell will give the evening address, the subject of which will be "The World's Greatest Conflict", after which those present will not only watch but will pray the old year out and the new one in.

A cordial invitation is extended by the church to all to come and partake of the good things. The house of worship is open to all and it is hoped that all may meet Christ there.

South Side Service

There will be watch night services in the Presbyterian church beginning at 10:30 o'clock. Subject of address will be "Taking Stock".

This service will be for people on south side.

Zion Evangelical Church

Zion Evangelical church, Fourth avenue and Forsyth street, N. E. will observe Watchnight with appropriate services Saturday night.

The meeting will begin at 8:30 o'clock when the annual business meeting of the church will take place.

Beginning at 10 o'clock there will be a social hour at which the men will have charge of serving the lunch. Great mystery surrounds this event.

Promptly at 11 o'clock we will retire to the church auditorium and spend the last hour of the old year with song, prayer, testimony and a sermon by the pastor.

All members are urged to attend, friends are cordially invited. Fred M. Ohms, pastor.

SHARKS TAKEN OFF NEW YORK

Their Capture Said to Have Been a Regular Thing Prior to and During Year 1815.

A shark nowadays even on the most exposed beaches of New York and the metropolitan area is a rarity and a curiosity, but there was a time when these fish used to be caught off Catharine slip, says the New York Sun. This was about 1815, when the fishing smacks and fish cars used to unload and load off this wharf in the East river and the dead fish thrown out into the water used to attract the sharks.

An old man, Sam Way, a porter in the old Catharine market, earned a reputation as a master shark catcher. "Shark around the slip," was the cry that was raised when a shark was sighted off the pier and then Sam would drop his broom and put out his chain hook and soon would have the giant fish struggling on the dock. He is said to have hauled in as many as seven in one day, some of them fourteen feet long.

Devoe, the historian, tells an incident which is passed on herewith without confirmation:

"One day Sam hooked a big one and he climbed into a skiff which lay tied to the end of the slip; the shark took to pulling and broke loose the skiff with Sam in, and away he went down the river at race-horse speed, nearly as far as Red Hook before he tired out, or Sam could hold him up. He, however, mastered him and brought him back, and Sam after that concluded not to be run away with again. So he stuck to the raft or dock when he fished for 'shark' thereafter."

Seek Cheap Power Alcohol.

Gasoline users will be interested to know that the search for cheap sources of power alcohol still continues. A recent writer in Nature suggests that foodstuffs are too valuable at present for such uses, but thinks that waste land in Ireland might be used to produce crops to be utilized in this way. Arrowroot, cassava and corn are possibilities in tropical countries; and a number of cellulose materials, such as straw and sawdust, offer possibilities in industrial regions.

Mummy's Wisdom.

"Mummy, may I have that chocolate you promised me now?" "Bless the child! Didn't I tell you you shouldn't have any at all if you didn't keep quiet?" "Yes, mummy."

"Well, the longer you keep quiet the sooner you'll get it."—Brooklyn Eagle.

TO RESTOCK BRITISH FORESTS

Importations of Fir and Spruce From Canada Are to Be Made for the Purpose.

The British Isles are to be reforested with Douglas fir and Sitka spruce from British Columbia. To obtain the necessary seed, a seed extracting plant will be established at Westminster by the dominion forestry service.

Shipment of green cones has been found impracticable. The new plant will handle a ton and a half of cones every six hours. The cones will be dried under hot air blast and as they open, the seed will fall from the drying cylinder of fine mesh into a hopper. Present requirements call for 3,000 pounds each of fir and spruce seed annually for which it will be necessary to gather 120 tons of cones.

Sitka spruce cones will be collected on the Queen Charlotte islands where the tree flourishes in abundance. The cones of the Douglas fir will be gathered on the western slopes of the Rocky mountains tributary to the Fraser river.

This is far country of the Hudson's Bay company, now closing out its lands in the prairie provinces to farm settlers. The company's posts are still dotted through this region of primeval wilderness.

Investigations of the British commission working out the vast reforestation scheme have shown Douglas fir and Sitka spruce best adapted for the purpose.

Centuries of tree cutting have left the islands of the British group denuded of forests and reforestation is necessary to replenish the timber.

COULDN'T READ THE 'SIGNALS'

Later, Mystified Newcomers to New York Were Enlightened, and a Little Embarrassed.

Newcomers to New York by steamship begin to learn things about the city as soon as their vessel gets headed up the harbor. There was a party of such on a vessel from Southern ports.

From the roof of a high downtown office building they saw what appeared to be a string of signal flags snapping in the breeze. Some were white, some were striped and one big one was a flaming red.

"If we only knew the code we could tell what they mean," said a member of the party. "Perhaps they indicate what channel we are to take up the river."

"Or maybe they are weather warnings of some kind," guessed another. "Let's ask one of the officers."

They did. The officer looked first with the naked eye and then with his glasses.

"That's the janitor's wash hung out on the roof to dry," he announced, as he finished his survey. "The big red one is a tablecloth."—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Love.

Into our work for others we can take nothing greater than love, for love is a wonderful guide and teacher. Skill and experience are worth little without it, and toil and sacrifice never could make up for its lack. There is courage and healing, strength and inspiration in the mere fact that some one loves us and cares for what we are doing.

Almost Unbelievable Fineness.

Gold lace is made by winding gilded silver wire around silk. The wire used for this purpose is drawn to such fineness that a mile and a quarter of it weighs only an ounce, while an ounce of gold covers a length of wire of more than 100 miles.

HEAVY MEAT EATERS HAVE SLOW KIDNEYS

EAT LESS MEAT IF YOU FEEL BACKACHE OR HAVE BLADDER TROUBLE

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

Why They Parted

"I was down with pain in my right side which at times almost crazed me. Most all of the doctors said operation, but what I want to tell you is the pain disappeared with the first dose of your medicine and I never see any since. Mayr's Wonderful Remedy has the right name—gas, sour stomach and dyspepsia have left, too." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy.—Adv.

PUBLIC OPINION BACKS CONFERENCE

There never has been much doubt about American opinion backing up the Conference for the Limitation of Armaments. And the fact that public opinion in this country overwhelmingly endorses the work of the Conference is now conclusively shown by a report made a few days ago by the general information section of the advisory committee to the American delegation. The nearest thing to a referendum on the subject so far undertaken is contained in the report.

All resolutions and petitions received from organizations and individuals regarding the Conference have been turned over to this section for digest. Up to December 15, the views of some 12,000,000 persons were received and one opposed the cooperative limitation of armaments.

Of this, the greater number of persons represented are church members, many are members of women's clubs, and some of the petitions came from commercial organizations and municipalities.

CAPPER RAILROAD BILL

It is expected that the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce will make a report soon after the holidays on the Capper railroad bill, and will make an adverse recommendation on that part of the bill which would change the provisions of the existing transportation act with respect to the making of rates.

The Capper bill would repeal the so-called guarantee of 5 1/2 per cent in the transportation act; would repeal Section 15-A, which is the rate-making section of the act, and also would restore to the state railroad commissions the powers which it is alleged, the Interstate Commerce Commission has taken from them.

FEDERAL AND STATE CO-OPERATION

With a view to bringing about greater cooperation between the Federal and State legal agencies, Attorney General Daugherty will ask the governors of the several states to call conferences of federal district attorneys and state prosecuting attorneys, to be held in their respective capitals.

Mr. Daugherty says the federal government is being called upon more and more to do the work of the state, and expressed the hope that a plan might be decided upon whereby the states would enforce their local laws themselves and the federal government do its share.

IRISH PEOPLE FAVOR TREATY

The indications at this writing lead to the confident belief that the Irish peace treaty will be ratified when the Dail Eireann meets on Jan. 3 pursuant to adjournment. Sentiment throughout Ireland, as reflected in dispatches to the newspapers, is apparently overwhelmingly in favor of the treaty. Reports from the various provinces indicate that fully 90 per cent of the people of Southern Ireland want the pact ratified. This confirms predictions made when the Dail Eireann adjourned its debate on the treaty, and it is now thought that when the Dail reassembles the treaty will be approved by a majority which will make an appeal to the country unnecessary.

SEEK INVESTMENT ABROAD

If amicable relations continue to obtain in the Conference on Limitation of Armaments, nearly $1,000,000,000, now practically idle in the United States, will probably seek investment abroad, especially since the Pacific and Far Eastern questions are now practically settled.

Those of our government officials who are watching the international exchange markets explain that the work of the Conference thus far has had the effect of appreciating to a slight extent the values of most foreign currencies, depreciated since the opening of the World war.

MEXICAN RELATIONS

Mexican relations will be considered by the administration following the conclusion of the Armaments Conference. The President feels that after devoting the first months of his administration to help set world affairs straight, it is time to put America's own house in order. It is said that preliminary suggestions are already being made in Washington, centering around the idea of a conference on Mexican relations.

In the first eleven months of this year American business houses exported $4,189,343,000 in merchandise, and during the same period the imports were $2,271,797,000, according to figures given out this week by the Department of Commerce. In the same eleven months in 1920, exports totaled $7,507,729,000 and imports $5,012,424,000.

The Jordan Independent rightly says that buying everything possible in your home community is a policy that will build up the community. Those who profit most directly by the advocacy and practice of this policy should go everything to encourage it, by seeking to make home-trade attractive.

The Des Moines Register is very optimistic. It expresses the opinion that some day Senator LaFollette may startle the Senate, the country and his constituents by declaring in favor of a proposition.

DISPLAY THAT IS PERIODIC

"Aurora Borealis" Has Its Manifestations at Intervals of From Ten to Sixty Years.

The name "aurora borealis" was first used by Cassendi, who in 1621 observed one in France and wrote a description of it. The "aurora" is periodic in its manifestations, the finest displays being at intervals of 60 years and less marked ones at intervals of 10 or 11 years.

It is asserted that the greater and lesser displays correspond with the increase and decrease of spots on the sun.

This phenomenon is generally manifested in the following way:

A dim light appears on the horizon shortly after twilight and gradually assumes the shape of an arch having a pale yellow color with its concave side turned earthward. From this arch streams of light shoot forth, passing from yellow to green and then to brilliant violet.

The name, "aurora borealis," while generally referring to the northern lights, is applied to a similar phenomenon visible in the vicinity of the South pole.

Machine Clears Land for Farm.

Among the new agricultural machinery is a ponderous mechanical construction which moves under its own power over some rough country and leaves it in condition for planting. The operation of clearing land for agricultural purposes is a very hard and tedious operation, but with the aid of this new machine the labor and time expenditure is reduced more than half. The front end of the machine, which moves on a caterpillar tread, is equipped with heavy bars with sharpened points which enter the ground alternately and tear roots and throw them on a conveyor belt, dropping them inside to be disposed of later. The rear of the machine is supplied with a somewhat different device which pulverizes the ground and leaves it in condition for planting. Under ordinary conditions this machine has a capacity of three acres a day.

Enlightening the Ignorant.

A large, guttural-voiced woman sat in an aisle seat for one of the Pavlova performances at the Manhattan opera house. She was the type who read all the captions aloud at the movies. Here her weakness took her in the form of interpreting the pantomime for the benefit of the man with her, and those around who could not escape. "Aw!" she would exclaim deeply and caressingly. "Her toes!" Her best remark, however, was on the occasion of Pavlova's final scene in "Amarilla," where she is dancing near the stone seat in the count's garden. "Now," she said, "she is Vorshipping where he sat."—New York Evening Post.

Truly Mathematical Prodigy.

The mathematical prodigy, whose case is reported in the Lancet, was able to give the square root of any number running into four figures, in an average of four seconds, and the cube root of any number running into six figures in six seconds. He gave the cube root of 465,474,375 (which is 775) in 13 seconds. These feats, and others even more remarkable, he performed without resort to writing, as he was blind from birth.

The forests of Florida contain 17,000,000,000 cubic feet of wood.

TWIN FOND OF BILLIARDS

Biographer Has Told How Great Humorist Would Wear Out His Companions at the Game.

November 30 is Mark Twain's birthday. The beloved humorist would have been eighty-six on that day in 1921, if he had lived. His biographer, Albert Bigelow Paine, in writing of Mark Twain's passion for playing billiards, a hobby which endured to the last, comments upon his great physical endurance and perpetual youth.

"I was comparatively a young man, and by no means an invalid," Mr. Paine writes, "but many a time far in the night, when I was ready to drop with exhaustion, he was still as fresh and buoyant and eager for the game as at the moment of beginning. He smoked and smoked continually, and followed the endless track around the billiard table with the light step of youth. At three or four o'clock in the morning he would urge just one more game, and would taunt me for my weariness."

"I can truthfully testify that never until the last year of his life did he willingly lay down the billiard cue, or show the least suggestion of fatigue. He played always at high pressure. Now and then, in periods of adversity, he would fly into a perfect passion with things in general. But, in the end, it was a sham battle, and we went on playing as if nothing had happened, only he was very gentle and sweet, like the sun on the meadows after the storm had passed by."

WITTY EVEN IN DREAMLAND

Rev. Washington Gladden Was Able to Recall Humorous Response He Made During Sleep.

Many of us have dreamed of writing a poem, delivering a speech or making a witty remark, that seemed at the time wonderfully brilliant, but that, recalled on waking, proved to be either commonplace or wholly meaningless. That is not always the case, however, as a story once told by the Rev. Washington Gladden proves.

He dreamed that the old house that formerly stood near his church was still there, and that old Mr. Deshler, who had been dead many years, still lived in it. Doctor Gladden also knew that his old dog, George, who never failed to bark at the minister when he passed the house, still lived. In the dream Doctor Gladden was passing the house when the door opened and the old gentleman came out, followed by George, who, as usual, rushed barking up to Doctor Gladden.

"Now, now, George," said the old man, "you ought not to do that. You know that's a friend of ours; that's Doctor Gladden."

"Oh! I have met George before," responded Doctor Gladden in his dream. "In fact George and I have for some time had a bow-wowing acquaintance."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Farms Supply Wild Life Loss.

According to figures supplied by the Dominion bureau of statistics, losses to the fur industry of Canada caused by the spread of civilization in the North are more than made up by rapid development of the fur farming industry.

In 1920 there were 587 fur farms in Canada, 578 of them foxes, six mink, two raccoon and one karakule sheep. The animals on these farms are valued at a little less than $5,000,000, silver-foxes leading.

The industry commenced on Prince Edward island and has worked west into British Columbia. By provinces the farms are distributed as follows: Prince Edward island, 309; Nova Scotia, 55; New Brunswick, 57; Quebec, 80; Ontario, 42; Manitoba and Saskatchewan, 4; Alberta, 15; British Columbia, 11 and Yukon Territory, 14.

Ex-Servicemen as Teachers.

Intensive training for teaching is given ex-service men in England at Hornsey Rise Training college, under the auspices of the ministry of labor. The course is 75 weeks long and not more than 24 days' absence will be allowed to any student, so that the length of the course will approximate that of the ordinary training college.

There are 180 students registered in this course, which began July 1. All of these have been approved by the board of education and by the National Union of Teachers. Some have already had teaching experience.

Life as I See It.

From our prehistoric ancestors down man has always had a friendly feeling for trees, regarding them as almost sentient beings.

Great writers have not disdained to express this feeling. Robert Louis Stevenson says: "He inquired his way of every tree."

And again, after an unpleasant encounter with a boar: "A tree would not have spoken to me like that."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

She Guffawed Then.

Sam—I never see you with Miss Giddings any more.

Lou—No; I couldn't stand her vulgar laughing.

Sam—So! I hadn't noticed it.

Lou—No, you weren't around when I proposed to her.

More than 100,000 forest fires have occurred in the United States during the past five years. Of these, 80 per cent were due to human agencies and were therefore preventable.

Cement for China.

Dissolve one large tablespoonful of gum arabic in one-quarter cupful of warm water (it must be rather thick). Put in enough plaster of paris to make a thick paste. Apply at once to broken china before the paste has time to set. In half an hour the china will be firm.

City's Name of Indian Origin.

Ottawa, the capital of the Dominion of Canada, takes its name from the river on which it stands. And the river bears the name of a nation of Indians belonging to the great Algonquin family. The name is said to be derived from the Algonquin word adawa, to trade, to buy and sell, and was applied to this particular tribe because it was noted for its trade in corn meal, furs and tobacco.

Inveterate Punster.

Thomas Hood, the poet, was the prince of English punsters, and found his own name a fruitful subject of his wit. On being shown a portrait of himself very unlike the original, he declared that the artist had perpetrated a false Hood. When near his end he said he was dying out of charity to the undertaker, who wished "to turn a lively Hood."

PUBLIC OPINION BACKS CONFERENCE

There never has been much doubt about American opinion backing up the Conference for the Limitation of Armaments. And the fact that public opinion in this country overwhelmingly endorses the work of the Conference is now conclusively shown by a report made a few days ago by the general information section of the advisory committee to the American delegation. The nearest thing to a referendum on the subject so far undertaken is contained in the report.

All resolutions and petitions received from organizations and individuals regarding the Conference have been turned over to this section for digest. Up to December 15, the views of some 12,000,000 persons were received and one opposed the cooperative limitation of armaments.

Of this, the greater number of persons represented are church members, many are members of women's clubs, and some of the petitions came from commercial organizations and municipalities.

COPPER RAILROAD BILL

It is expected that the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce will make a report soon after the holidays on the Copper railroad bill, and will make an adverse recommendation on that part of the bill which would change the provisions of the existing transportation act with respect to the making of rates.

The Copper bill would repeal the so-called guarantee of 5 1/2 per cent in the transportation act; would repeal Section 15-A, which is the rate-making section of the act, and also would restore to the state railroad commissions the powers which it is alleged, the Interstate Commerce Commission has taken from them.

FEDERAL AND STATE CO-OPERATION

With a view to bringing about greater cooperation between the Federal and State legal agencies, Attorney General Daugherty will ask the governors of the several states to call conferences of federal district attorneys and state prosecuting attorneys, to be held in their respective capitols.

Mr. Daugherty says the federal government is being called upon more and more to do the work of the state, and expressed the hope that a plan might be decided upon whereby the states would enforce their local laws themselves and the federal government do its share.

IRISH PEOPLE FAVOR TREATY

The indications at this writing lead to the confident belief that the Irish peace treaty will be ratified when the Dail Eireann meets on Jan. 3 pursuant to adjournment. Sentiment throughout Ireland, as reflected in dispatches to the newspapers, is apparently overwhelmingly in favor of the treaty. Reports from the various provinces indicate that fully 90 per cent of the people of Southern Ireland want the pact ratified. This confirms predictions made when the Dail Eireann adjourned its debate on the treaty, and it is now thought that when the Dail reassembles the treaty will be approved by a majority which will make an appeal to the country unnecessary.

SEEK INVESTMENT ABROAD

If amicable relations continue to obtain in the Conference on Limitation of Armaments, nearly $1,000,000,000, now practically idle in the United States, will probably seek investment abroad, especially since the Pacific and Far Eastern questions are now practically settled.

Those of our government officials who are watching the international exchange markets explain that the work of the Conference thus far has had the effect of appreciating to a slight extent the values of most foreign currencies, depreciated since the opening of the World war.

MEXICAN RELATIONS

Mexican relations will be considered by the administration following the conclusion of the Armaments Conference. The President feels that after devoting the first months of his administration to help set world affairs straight, it is time to put America's own house in order. It is said that preliminary suggestions are already being made in Washington, centering around the idea of a conference on Mexican relations.

In the first eleven months of this year American business houses exported $4,189,343,000 in merchandise, and during the same period the imports were $2,271,797,000, according to figures given out this week by the Department of Commerce. In the same eleven months in 1920, exports totaled $7,507,729,000 and imports $5,012,424,000.

The Jordan Independent rightly says that buying everything possible in your home community is a policy that will build up the community. Those who profit most directly by the advocacy and practice of this policy should go everything to encourage it, by seeking to make home-trade attractive.

The Des Moines Register is very optimistic. It expresses the opinion that some day Senator LaFollette may startle the Senate, the country and his constituents by declaring in favor of a proposition.

DISPLAY THAT IS PERIODIC

"Aurora Borealis" Has Its Manifestations at Intervals of From Ten to Sixty Years.

The name "aurora borealis" was first used by Cassendi, who in 1621 observed one in France and wrote a description of it. The "aurora" is periodic in its manifestations, the finest displays being at intervals of 60 years and less marked ones at intervals of 10 or 11 years.

It is asserted that the greater and lesser displays correspond with the increase and decrease of spots on the sun.

This phenomenon is generally manifested in the following way:

A dim light appears on the horizon shortly after twilight and gradually assumes the shape of an arch having a pale yellow color with its concave side turned earthward. From this arch streams of light shoot forth, passing from yellow to green and then to brilliant violet.

The name, "aurora borealis," while generally referring to the northern lights, is applied to a similar phenomenon visible in the vicinity of the South pole.

Machine Clears Land for Farm.

Among the new agricultural machinery is a ponderous mechanical construction which moves under its own power over some rough country and leaves it in condition for planting. The operation of clearing land for agricultural purposes is a very hard and tedious operation, but with the aid of this new machine the labor and time expenditure is reduced more than half. The front end of the machine, which moves on a caterpillar tread, is equipped with heavy bars with sharpened points which enter the ground alternately and tear roots and throw them on a conveyer belt, dropping them inside to be disposed of later. The rear of the machine is supplied with a somewhat different device which pulverizes the ground and leaves it in condition for planting. Under ordinary conditions this machine has a capacity of three acres a day.

Enlightening the Ignorant.

A large, guttural-voiced woman sat in an aisle seat for one of the Pavlova performances at the Manhattan opera house. She was the type who read all the captions aloud at the movies. Here her weakness took her in the form of interpreting the pantomime for the benefit of the man with her, and those around who could not escape. "Aw!" she would exclaim deeply and caressingly. "Her toes!" Her best remark, however, was on the occasion of Pavlova's final scene in "Amarilla," where she is dancing near the stone seat in the count's garden. "Now," she said, "she is Vorshping where he sat."—New York Evening Post.

AMUSEMENTS

William S. Hart at Lyceum Tonight and Saturday

William S. Hart proves to be an ideal sweetheart, cowboy and governor in his latest Paramount picture, "Three Word Brand" which will be shown at the Lyceum theatre tonight and Saturday. As the sweetheart he tells the story of his passion in three words—"I love you;" as the cowboy, he gives brave battle to his enemies and as governor of a great state for a day, he tells a big political boss to "go to hell"

Mr. Hart never has been seen in a western picture of greater drama and appeal than "Three Word Brand." For the first time in his career he plays three distinct parts in a photoplay. He is first seen as a brave settler who, after seeing his twin sons safely away when he is menaced by Indians, blows himself and the savages into fragments to prevent them from trailing his motherless boys. They are rescued and later lose track of each other. One becomes the governor of a state while the other is a rancher. How they meet and what follows, makes up one of the most thrilling stories ever screened.

Jane Novak, a beautiful leading woman, heads a clever supporting cast. The players include S. J. Ingham, Gordon Russell, Ivor McFadden, Herschel Mayall, Colette Forbes, George C. Pearce and Leo Williams. The picture was adapted and directed by Lambert Hillyer.

New Serial Starts at Lyceum Today

Charles Hutchison, the Thrill-a-Minute Stunt King, if he doesn't like the hazzards he must take in the new Pathe serial "Hurricane Hutch," which opens at the Lyceum today, cannot heap epithets on the head of the author. That is, not with any degree of satisfaction, for Mr. Hutchison, himself, is the concocter-in-chief of the plot and designer and inventor of all the thrills.

Contrary to the evidence against him in "Hurricane Hutch," Mr. Hutchison does not foolishly risk his life, nor recklessly attempt a stunt. Every stunt and thrill is careful and, when it permits, mathematically or scientifically worked out before it is ever attempted.

The Lyceum theatre feels honored to be able to present "Hurricane Hutch" to its patrons, as it is something entirely new and distinctive in the continued form of cinema entertainment. In spite of its thrills, its tensity, its swift action, it is not a serial of the blood and thunder type. There is no shooting or knifing from the first to the fifteenth episode. Mothers can feel perfectly safe in bringing their kiddies, or letting them come by themselves.

Episode No. 1, entitled "The Secret Cipher," will be shown at the Lyceum tonight and Saturday.

"SILENT YEARS" AT THE NEW PARK TONIGHT

"Mam'selle Jo" is Picturized as "Silent Years" and Proves Tremendously Interesting

The name L. J. Gasnier means standard of merit—the highest merit—in motion pictures. As one of the earliest and most famous motion picture producers of France, Gasnier had attained a wide reputation before he came to this country and won further laurels in the production of important subjects for R-C Pictures.

Gasnier's most recent R-C picture is "Silent Years" and it will be screened at the New Park theatre tonight only. "Silent Years" is based upon the novel "Mam'selle Jo" by Harriet T. Comstock and is a wonderfully picturesque and dramatic story laid in the St. Lawrence River district. Its theme is that of self-sacrifice and in the hands of such a master as Gasnier it becomes a throbbing drama, replete with romance and adventure.

Not the least important factor in the success of this unusual picture is the notable star cast assembled by Mr. Gasnier. Not only one headliner but several players of the very highest caliber grace the cast. There is, for instance, Pauline Starke, who interprets the role of Donelle. Miss Starke has gained a big reputation in leading roles during the last several months and under the supervision of Mr. Gasnier she does quite the best work of her recent career. Miss Starke was particularly well chosen for the role of Donelle, for she gives it the fair, slight and ethereal characterizations with which Miss Comstock endowed her character in her novel.

Rose Dione, famous actress from France, gives a brilliant interpretation of the role of Mam'selle Jo. By a strange coincidence Madame Dione is not only the exact counterpart of Mam'selle Jo, but like that woman she too, is a Frenchwoman, with scarcely any knowledge of English.

Whether this brought about a deeper bond of sympathy it is difficult to say but certain it is that Madame Dione throughout the entire production is so thoroughly Mam'selle Jo, in action, manner and thought, that the author might have written the story with Madame Dione herself in mind. For her part, the French actress declares that in all the years of her experience she has never had the privilege of portraying a character so elementally noble and beautiful.

Then, too, there is Tully Marshall, one of the foremost character men on the American stage before he abandoned the footlights for the celluloid drama. Mr. Marshall appears as Captain Longville, a part especially suited to his abundant talents.

Others in the cast are Geo. McDaniel, George Seigmann, Will Jim Hatton, Jack Mower, James O. Barrows, Jack Livingston, Ruth King, Kate Toncray, Lillian Rambeau, Jean O'Rourke and Ruth Ashby.

Al Hart at New Park Saturday

A committee of eminent judges recently was called upon to decide the winner in a unique motion picture contest in New York. Their decision, strange to relate, was that there was no winner, although hundreds had entered the contest.

The contest was staged for the purpose of seeing if anyone could determine the correct outcome of "Rustlers of the Night," the latest drama of western thrills in the Al Hart series. In this unusual film story Al Hart carries with him constantly a small wooden box. He guards it as he does his life. Only two other persons know the contents. They are his daughter and his faithful servant, a half-breed Indian. The first showing of the picture in the East was before a critical audience of motion picture trade paper representatives and other film experts. Not one of them was able to correctly guess in advance the contents of the box or the finish of the picture. It aroused so much interest that the producers were prevailed upon to offer a prize of $1000 to the one who could guess the finish of the story, after seeing the first four reels of the film for the first time. It is in the fifth and last reel that the secret is unfolded.

The contest attracted wide attention. There were no two solutions alike. Let not one of them was correct.

When you see "Rustlers of the Night" at the New Park theatre tomorrow you will realize why the picture has been called one of the most baffling ever screened.

White Men in South Africa Hardly Recognized by Appellation of Brave and Noble Indians.

Their adventure in Swaziland is told by a doctor who just returned from a ten years' sojourn there and who, with two other white men, was made sub-chief in the Swazi tribe of South Africa negroes. The white men were not eager for the experience, and the initiation was far from an inducement, the rule requiring that they should spend ten days of purgatory exile from human society, in native dress, with only native weapons, depending upon their skill in the use of these for food. The doctor told with considerable feeling how they were stripped by the leading medicine man of every shred of clothing, given Swazi warrior costumes and conducted into the hills. They were bitten by insects, scratched by thorns, frozen at night, scorched by day, their bare feet bruised and abraded until they were in agony, kept in constant fear of the many poisonous snakes—but, most of all, hungry. In spite of L. Tanga's tutoring in native methods of taking game, the white men, used to depending upon the rifle for such purposes, nearly starved. However, when the chief medicine man and his assistants came to conduct them back to the kraal of the queen, the famished, dirty, desperate looking white men, with ten days' growth of beard, were acclaimed brave and noble Indians.

Hibernating Fishes.

Cold weather has a marked effect on some of the fresh water fish at the aquarium of the New York Zoological society. When the temperature of the fresh water flowing through the tanks of the aquarium falls below 40 degrees, certain fish become very sluggish. The young yellow perch lie quietly at the bottom of the tank, as evenly spaced as if put there by their keeper, and take little food. A low temperature affects young black bass in quite a different way. They stay poised somewhere above the bottom, but crowded close together. Fifty or more will often gather in a compact mass, all facing in the same direction. The aquarium has several tanks of young black bass, all groups of which show the same curious habit.

"Not for me," the prospective customer replied. "I only play euchre."

Clubs and Organizations Aiding
to Establish Rink

Brainerd's municipal skating rink
at the C. W. Koering grounds will be formally dedicated and opened to the public with a program of sports, etc., on Monday, January 2. It will be made a gala affair.

Brainerd always has taken great interest in winter sports and carnival events achieving a record for having in line the largest marching club at the St. Paul carnival.

Skating is one of the most healthful sports known. The rink is safety itself. It measures over a city block square, being about 350 feet square. It boasts a fine warming house, well lighted. The rink is amply provided with lights.

Sections have been reserved for the kiddies so they may skate undisturbed; another for beginners who may carry on the wildest gyrations without dangers to others; a section for hockey rink, etc.

At 2:30 p. m. Monday the program of dedication and sports will be inaugurated. Mayor F. E. Little will deliver a short address. The mayor in the past has started off many a ball season and he will be welcomed to give the municipal skating rink a "sendoff". The committee is endeavoring to have the Brainerd municipal band at the exercises to contribute several numbers.

The program of sports will follow.

History of the Skating Rink

Early in the fall a meeting was held in the Chamber of Commerce, composed of members of the Park and Playgrounds committee of the Chamber and members of the Northeast Brainerd Improvement League, to discuss plans for a skating rink and toboggan slide for this winter.

Several locations were suggested and it was finally decided that if the Koering grounds could be secured they would be the logical place for this winter playground. Mr. Koering was visited and kindly donated the use of the ball grounds for this purpose.

The other clubs of the city were notified of this action and cooperated in various ways to help raise the necessary funds.

The committee of which Carl Wright was chairman decided to engage a man to have charge of flooding the rink, erecting the slide and overseeing after the rink had been completed. The toboggan slide is under the management of Ray Stein and the rink under the management of J. C. Kaatz.

The committee has encountered many difficulties, such as the unevenness of the land which made it difficult to flood, and warm weather has delayed getting the grounds in shape for skating.

City Council

The city council has been very generous in donating the water and contributing towards the success of this city playground.

Perhaps the most enthusiastic member of the council was Alderman Otto Cordes.

The splendid spirit manifested by everyone who has been asked for assistance speaks well for Brainerd and the future of Brainerd.

Northeast Brainerd Improvement League

The Northeast Brainerd Improvement League was started in 1917 with the following officers: Edward Crust, president; Hugo A. Kaatz, secretary and Richard Ilse, treasurer. These men have held office continuously until the last election when Rev. J. E. Cadwell was elected to succeed Mr. Crust as president.

This organization is particularly favored with live, enthusiastic women members among whom Mrs. Herbert, Mrs. Raech and Mrs. Kelly are prominent. The ordinary man is no match for these women either in doing things for the community or in debate.

Prominent among the male members are Alderman Strickler, C. W. Koering, Oscar Swanson, A. A. Arnold and Robert Crust.

It was the generosity of C. W. Koering who made it possible to have the skating rink this year by donating the use of the grounds.

The league has raised funds by arranging for and putting on the carnival; also band concerts and dances at Lum park. These have netted them several hundred dollars and one of the big things done by this organization—the lighting of Kindred street—was financed by some of these funds.

Southeast Brainerd Club

The Southeast Brainerd club is an organization of young men that began life in 1910 as a boys' club. The boys—15 years and older—developed the idea of a neighborly club and were able to secure a house which they proceeded to furnish and equip. Some of the charter members are O. F. Erickson, Fred Bentley, Tony Anderson, Robert Anderson, Archie Falconer, Frank Alexander, Axel Anderson, Robert Falconer and Lester Bentley. The club has always been active in neighborhood affairs, looking after the poor and helping those in distress.

During the war they gave entertainments to raise funds for the Red Cross and other war activities. Their total membership of 18 members sent 15 boys to war. Three of them are now disabled veterans. Their service flag of fifteen stars hangs on the wall of the club room and is an inspiration to the people of that neighborhood.

Their rooms are equipped for athletics and also a splendid library and reading room. The kitchen is completely equipped for caring for the inner man. These men have been active in putting across this skating rink and toboggan slide.

Brainerd Athletic Club

The Brainerd Athletic club is composed of South side young men from 18 to 20 years of age who have been very active in athletics.

They have had a baseball team, a football team and anticipate having a hockey team to play on the new rink when it is finished.

They meet in the various homes of the members and no doubt in the near future will have a club room in the neighborhood.

The following is the list of members: Glen Jones, Sam Greer, Jr., Ole Creger, Glen Schnell, Mal Larson, Art Haase, G. Kuehlmichel, Shorty Udenberg, Clarence Nordstrom, Walter Brick, William Brick, Clifford Bourasso, Earl Wadsworth, Cecil Miller, Eano Nelme, Clarence Anderson.

Political Strategy.

"After a member of congress has lived in Washington for a time he acquires the airs of a statesman."

"Most of my colleagues do," said Senator Snortsworthy, "but personally I prefer to look like a small town business man. I may not impress foreign visitors as much, but it makes me stronger with the folks back home when a constituent of mine returns from a visit to Washington and tells the boys there are no frills about Jim Snortsworthy. He's just as much a friend of the plain people as he ever was."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

BRAINERD GRAPPLER NOW TOP NOTCHER

Henry Karhunsai, Formerly of Brainerd, Now of Virginia on the Mesaba Range

IS AGGRESSIVE MAT ARTIST

Never Believed in Stalling, Tried for a Clear Cut Throw Every Time He Was Matched

Brainerd sport fans are deeply interested in the progress of Henry Karhunsai, now of Virginia, on the Mesaba range, who is numbered among the topnotchers of wrestling art. Karhunsai, when he lived in Brainerd, worked in the shops and made his home in Southeast Brainerd.

He had several matches in Brainerd and vicinity and always gave evidence of clean cut wrestling and a sincere desire to push things and get a clean-cut decision.

Karhunsai's latest match was set with Meyers and the News Tribune sport article reads:

"Johnny Meyers, world's middleweight wrestling champion, and Henry Karhunsai, Virginia's challenger for the title, were scheduled to wrestle in Duluth for the title Dec. 28. When Promoter R. J. Carnes announced the date both men set up a howl.

"Not enough time to prepare for such an important match," Meyers wired from Chicago. Karhunsai was willing to have it Dec. 28 but was just as willing to have the date set ahead one week. Result, the match will be held at the Shrine auditorium on the night of Jan. 6. All parties are now satisfied.

"Promoter Carnes is arranging a nifty card for that night. Matt McCurdy of Two Harbors and welterweight, champion of the northwest, has been placed on the semi-windup and efforts are now being made to find an opponent for him. McCurdy issued a sweeping defy the other day but as yet no one was willing to accept it. An opponent will be found for him even if Carnes has to send down to Texas for a man.

"In the curtain-raiser Joey Stecher, Duluth's fighter-wrestler, will meet Janquin, featherweight champion of the world. Stecher needs little introduction to local wrestling or fighting fans. He has appeared here too many times. To say that he is in the best of shape right now would be useless, as all who saw him go six rounds with Jimmy Smith the other night know that he is in shape and ready to go on the mat tonight. Stecher hasn't wrestled in some time but is confident

MOST HAZARDOUS OF SPORTS

Participants in Irish Wild Goose Chase Always in for Danger Real and Thrilling.

The etymology of steeplechase is too obvious to need set explanation. Founders of the sport merely fixed upon a distant steeple and rode straight to it, crossing gallantly, hedge, ditch, paling, turf or timber, pastures, crops, moorland or ridge and furrow—whose riding straightest, came in first and was winner.

But there are few, indeed, to whom a wild goose chase bears any implication of sport, yet the phrase derives from a sport hazardous, indeed. It is said to have begun in Ireland, where a chosen leader took mounted men cross country, but chose always the roughest, wildest going to be found. If mischance befell the leader some other took up the office—occasionally there was a change of leaders if the first proved timorous. For danger real and thrilling was the spice of the wild goose chase.

The winner was not he who came home first, but he who had flunked nothing in the route, even possibly having gone further around to negotiate an extra hazard.

PROGRAM FOR MONDAY, JAN'Y 2

Formal Dedication and Opening of Brainerd's Municipal Rink to be a Gala Affair

VALUABLE PRIZES IN SPORTS

Mention Made of Some of the City
Clubs and Organizations Aiding
to Establish Rink

Brainerd's municipal skating rink
at the C. W. Koering grounds will be formally dedicated and opened to the public with a program of sports, etc., on Monday, January 2. It will be made a gala affair.

Brainerd always has taken great interest in winter sports and carnival events
achieving a record for having in line
the largest marching club at the St.
Paul carnival.

Skating is one of the most healthful sports known. The rink is safety itself. It measures over a city block square, being about 350 feet square.
It boasts a fine warming house, well lighted. The rink is amply provided with lights.

Sections have been reserved for the kiddies so they may skate undisturbed;
another for beginners who may err on the wilder gyrations without damaging to others; a section for hockey rink, etc.

At 2:30 p. m. Monday the program of dedication and sports will be inaugurated. Mayor F. E. Little will deliver a short address. The mayor in the past has started off many a ball season and he will be welcomed to give the municipal skating rink a "sendoff". The committee is endeavoring to have the Brainerd municipal band at the exercises to contribute several numbers.

The program of sports will follow.

prizes for the various events having been donated by the public spirited merchants of Brainerd.

History of the Skating Rink

Early in the fall a meeting was held in the Chamber of Commerce, composed of members of the Park and Playgrounds committee of the Chamber and members of the Northeast Brainerd Improvement League, to discuss plans for a skating rink and toboggan slide for this winter.

Several locations were suggested and it was finally decided that if the Koering grounds could be secured they would be the logical place for this winter playground. Mr. Koering was visited and kindly donated the use of the ball grounds for this purpose.

The other clubs of the city were notified of this action and cooperated in various ways to help raise the necessary funds.

The committee of which Carl Wright was chairman decided to engage a man to have charge of flooding
the rink, greeting the slide and overseeing after the rink had been completed. The toboggan slide is under the management of Ray Stein and the rink under the management of J. C.
Kaatz.

The committee has encountered
many difficulties, such as the uneven-ness of the land which made it difficult to flood, and warm weather has delayed getting the grounds in shape for skating.

City Council

The city council has been very generous in donating the water and contributing towards the success of this city playground.

Perhaps the most enthusiastic
member of the council was Alderman Otto Cordes.

The splendid spirit manifested by everyone who has been asked for assistance speaks well for Brainerd and the future of Brainerd.

Northeast Brainerd Improvement League

The Northeast Brainerd Improvement League was started in 1917 with the following officers: Edward Crust, president; Hugo A. Kaatz, secretary and Richard Hse, treasurer.
These men have held office continuously until the last election when Rev. J. E. Cadwell was elected to succeed Mr. Crust as president.

This organization is particularly favored with live, enthusiastic women members among whom Mrs. Herbert, Mrs. Rasch and Mrs. Kelly are prominent. The ordinary man is no match for these women either in doing things for the community or in debate.

Prominent among the male members are Alderman Strickler, C. W.
Koering, Oscar Swanson, A. A. Arnold and Robert Crust.

It was the generosity of C. W.
Koering who made it possible to have the skating rink this year by donating the use of the grounds.

The league has raised funds by arranging for and putting on the carnival; also band concerts and dances at Lum park. These have netted them several hundred dollars and one of the big things done by this organization—the lighting of Kindred street—was financed by some of these funds.

Southeast Brainerd Club

The Southeast Brainerd club is an organization of young men that began life in 1910 as a boys' club. The boys—15 years and older—developed the idea of a neighborly club and were able to secure a house which they proceeded to furnish and equip.

Some of the charter members are O.
P. Erickson, Fred Bentley, Tony Anderson, Robert Anderson, Archie Falconer, Frank Alexander, Axel Anderson, Robert Falconer and Lester Bentley. The club has always been active in neighborhood affairs, looking after the poor and helping those in distress.

During the war they gave entertainments to raise funds for the Red Cross and other war activities. Their total membership of 13 members sent 15 boys to war. Three of them are now disabled veterans. Their service flag of fifteen stars hangs on the wall of the club room and is an inspiration to the people of that neighborhood.

Their rooms are equipped for athletics and also a splendid library and reading room. The kitchen is completely equipped for caring for the inner man. These men have been active in putting across this skating rink and toboggan slide.

Brainerd Athletic Club

The Brainerd Athletic club is composed of South side young men from 18 to 20 years of age who have been very active in athletics.

They have had a baseball team, a football team and anticipate having a hockey team to play on the new rink when it is finished.

They meet in the various homes of the members and no doubt in the near future will have a club room in the neighborhood.

The following is the list of members: Glen Jones, Sam Greer, Jr., Ole Creger, Glen Schnell, Mal Larson, Art
Haase, G. Kuehlmichel, Shorty Uddenberg, Clarence Nordstrom, Walter Brick, William Brick, Clifford Bour-asso, Earl Wadsworth, Cecil Miller, Eano Nehue, Clarence Anderson.

Political Strategy.

"After a member of congress has lived in Washington for a time he acquires the airs of a statesman."

"Most of my colleagues do," said Senator Snortsworthy, "but personally I prefer to look like a small town business man. I may not impress foreign visitors as much, but it makes me stronger with the folks back home
when a constituent of mine returns from a visit to Washington and tells the boys there are no frills about Jim Snortsworthy. He's just as much a friend of the plain people as he ever was."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Record Telephone Conversation.

A telephone conversation was recently held between a ship 100 miles off the Atlantic coast of the United States and Catalina Island, 30 miles off the coast of California, wireless telephony being used over the water and wire telephony over the land. This is the first time the voice of man has been carried across a continent and stretches of two adjacent oceans.

BRAINERD GRAPPLER NOW TOP NOTCHER

Henry Karhunsaa, Formerly of Brainerd, Now of Virginia, on the Mesaba Range

IS AGGRESSIVE MAT ARTIST

Never Believed in Stalling, Tried for a Clear Cut Throw Every Time
He Was Matched

Brainerd sport fans are deeply interested in the progress of Henry Karhunsaa, now of Virginia, on the Mesaba range, who is numbered among the topnotchers of wrestling art. Kar-hunsaa, when he lived in Brainerd, worked in the shops and made his home in Southeast Brainerd.

He had several matches in Brainerd and vicinity and always gave evidence of clean cut wrestling and a sincere desire to push things and get a clean-cut decision.

Karhunsaa's latest match was set with Meyers and the News Tribune
sport article reads:

"Johnny Meyers, world's middleweight wrestling champion, and Henry Karhunsaa, Virginia's challenger for the title, were scheduled to wrestle in Duluth for the title Dec. 28.
When Promoter R. J. Carnes announced the date both men set up a howl.
"Not enough time to prepare for such an important match," Meyers wired from Chicago. Karhunsaa was willing to have it Dec. 28 but was just as willing to have the date set ahead one week. Result, the match will be held at the Shrine auditorium on the night of Jan. 6. All parties are now satisfied."

Promoter Carnes is arranging a nifty card for that night. Matt McCurdy of Two Harbors and welterweight champion of the northwest, has been placed on the semi-windup and efforts are now being made to find an opponent for him. McCurdy issued a sweeping defy the other day but as yet no one was willing to accept it. An opponent will be found for him even if Carnes has to send down to Texas for a man.

In the curtain-raiser Joey Stecher,
Duluth's fighter-wrestler, will meet Janquin, featherweight champion of the world. Stecher needs little introduction to local wrestling or fighting fans. He has appeared here too many times. To say that he is in the best of shape right now would be useless, as all who saw him go six rounds with Jimmy Smith the other night know that he is in shape and ready to go on the mat tonight. Stecher hasn't wrestled in some time but is confident

MOST HAZARDOUS OF SPORTS

Participants in Irish Wild Goose
Chase Always in for Danger
Real and Thrilling.

The etymology of steeplechase is too obvious to need set explanation.
Founders of the sport merely fixed upon a distant steeple and rode straight to it, crossing gallantly,
hedge, ditch, paling, turf or timber, pastures, crops, moorland or ridge and furrow—whose riding straightest, came in first and was winner.

But there are few, indeed, to whom a wild goose chase bears any implication of sport, yet the phrase derives from a sport hazardous, indeed. It is said to have begun in Ireland, where a chosen leader took mounted men cross country, but chose always the roughest, wildest going to be found.
If mischance befell the leader some other took up the office—occasionally there was a change of leaders if the first proved timorous. For danger real and thrilling was the spice of the wild goose chase.

The winner was not he who came home first, but he who had flunked nothing in the route, even possibly having gone further around to negotiate an extra hazard.

Knowing this I have wondered a little if the Wild Geese—the Irish legions who, fighting for alien kings, have shown themselves prodigies of valor—did not take their name from the sport nearest the heart of their homeland.—New York Herald.

corated place in the city."

the visitor, who was being shown

TEMPORARY INCREASE HAS BEEN LAID OFF

Bulletins posted in the Northern Pacific railway shops announced that the temporary increase of men in the car shops occasioned by heavy work in the fall, has been laid off.

The men number thirty and generally came from Superior, Wisconsin.

All Star Vaudeville at New Park Saturday

The first number on the vaudeville bill at the New Park theatre tomorrow, will be Florine, heralded as an accordionist De Luxe, and after hearing her wonderful offering one can not help but appreciate her artistic ability. Hers is an offering that will please beyond all doubt, for she adds zest and enjoyment in the happy laughing manner in which she delivers her numbers. Florine is second to none in playing upon the piano accordion, and it is said that only one in five hundred can master this instrument. One must see and hear this wonderful act to appreciate an up-to-date and novel musical offering, that is very worthy of the higher class auditors.

The second number on the bill are Mortan and Kane in a rare musical kit entitled "Bright Ideas". These men are entertainers of the usual sort, as far as the humorous chatter goes, but not in the character of their voices. One has a high tenor register of uncommon beauty, while the other has a base voice equally wonderful, and when their voices blend in a duet it is certainly a rare treat that will not be forgotten.

The third act on the program are Roberts and Davis, who bill themselves as the "Wise Guy and the Boob Kid" and have an act that might be called a vaudeville chop-suey, as it has a little of everything that pretains to up-to-date clever entertainment. Miss Davis in her torn overalls and dilapidated straw hat, makes a delightful Huckleberry Finn and when she sings her rube songs to the boys in the audience, and does her rube dance, the old folks think back to the old days of the barn dance and want to get right up on the stage and hoe it down. Bob Roberts certainly knows the art of singing the very latest New York hits, and his medley of up-to-date songs is a classic, when Miss Davis reappears near the close of the act with a surprise that is sure to bring a burst of applause.

The fourth and last act on this bill are the American Newsboys in comedy talking and harmony singing. These four boys compose one of the best quartettes now playing in vaudeville and always be relied upon to give a performance that will please all, and one that everyone will remember.

DULUTH COMMERCIAL CLUB NEW NAME

Civic Body Changes from "Commercial Club" to "Duluth Chamber of Commerce"

REASONS FOR SAME IS STATED

Corporate Existence of the Club Extended 30 Years, Present Charter Expiring Feb. 28, 1922

Duluth like Brainerd has adopted the title "Chamber of Commerce" for its civic organization.

The future name of the Duluth Commercial club will be the Duluth Chamber of Commerce, members unanimously deciding so at a special meeting held. The proposal to change the name of the club first was made at the annual meeting last month, although the proposition has been discussed favorably for a long time.

A second resolution extending the corporate existence of club for 30 years also was adopted. The present charter expires Feb. 28, 1922. A motion expediting the payment of club accounts was carried.

Change is Benefit

"The change of name will not alter the facilities and activities of the club," J. C. McCarthy, secretary, said. "It adoption will elevate its significance and give the organization a dignity and standing not obtainable through any other title."

The name Chamber of Commerce now is accepted as the standard name for commercial organizations through the United States. Of 3,000 such organizations in the United States, 89 per cent are now known as chambers of commerce.

Bethlehem Ladies Aid

The new officers for the coming year were elected yesterday:

ALUMNI MASS MEETING

To be Held in High School Assembly Room, 8 O'clock Sharp This Friday Evening

(By A. J. S. Class of '21)

Tonight in the high school assembly will be held a large mass meeting of all alumni of B. H. S. This meeting should interest every graduate of the Brainerd high school and will give those who have suggestions to offer a chance to present them to the alumni as a whole. At the class reunion of the class of '21, on Thursday evening everyone present thought it a good plan to organize all the alumni into one large Alumni Association. Once such an organization is started much can be accomplished in civic matters. Some high schools in Minnesota have had Alumni Associations and enjoyed homecomings for forty years and more. Surely the graduates of the Brainerd high school can organize and successfully run an association.

Every alumnus of B. H. S. who possibly can should attend this meeting and help to make a reality of the ideas of those interested in organization.

Bulletins posted in the Northern Pacific railway shops announced that the temporary increase of men in the car shops occasioned by heavy work in the fall, has been laid off.

The men number thirty and generally came from Superior, Wisconsin.

All Star Vaudeville at New Park Saturday

The first number on the vaudeville bill at the New Park theatre tomorrow, will be Florine, heralded as an accordionist De Luxe, and after hearing her wonderful offering one can not help but appreciate her artistic ability. Hers is an offering that will please beyond all doubt, for she adds zest and enjoyment in the happy laughing manner in which she delivers her numbers. Florine is second to none in playing upon the piano accordion, and it is said that only one in five hundred can master this instrument. One must see and hear this wonderful act to appreciate an up-to-date and novel musical offering, that is very worthy of the higher class auditors.

The second number on the bill are Mortan and Kane in a rare musical act entitled "Bright Ideas". These men are entertainers of the usual sort, as far as the humorous chatter goes, but not in the character of their voices. One has a high tenor register, if uncommon beauty, while the other has a base voice equally wonderful, and when their voices blend in a duet it is certainly a rare treat that will not be forgotten.

The third act on the program are Roberts and Davis, who bill themselves as the "Wise Guy and the Boob Kid" and have an act that might be called a vaudeville chop-suey, as it has a little of everything that pretains to up-to-date clever entertainment. Miss Davis in her torn overalls and dilapidated straw hat, makes a delightful Huckleberry Finn and when she sings her rube songs to the boys in the audience, and does her rube dance, the old folks think back to the old days of the barn dance and want to get right up on the stage and hoe it down. Bob Roberts certainly knows the art of singing the very latest New York hits, and his medley of up-to-date songs is a classic, when Miss Davis reappears near the close of the act with a surprise that is sure to bring a burst of applause.

The fourth and last act on this bill are the American Newsboys in comedy talking and harmony singing. These four boys compose one of the best quartettes now playing in vaudeville and always be relied upon to give a performance that will please all, and one that everyone will remember.

DULUTH COMMERCIAL CLUB NEW NAME

Civic Body Changes from "Commercial Club" to "Duluth Chamber of Commerce"

REASONS FOR SAME IS STATED

Corporate Existence of the Club Extended 30 Years, Present Charter Expiring Feb. 28, 1922

Duluth like Brainerd has adopted the title "Chamber of Commerce" for its civic organization.

The future name of the Duluth Commercial club will be the Duluth Chamber of Commerce, members unanimously deciding so at a special meeting held. The proposal to change the name of the club first was made at the annual meeting last month, although the proposition has been discussed favorably for a long time.

A second resolution extending the corporate existence of club for 30 years also was adopted. The present charter expires Feb. 28, 1922. A motion expediting the payment of club accounts was carried.

Change is Benefit

"The change of name will not alter the facilities and activities of the club," J. C. McCarthy, secretary, said. "It adoption will elevate its significance and give the organization a dignity and standing not obtainable through any other title."

The name Chamber of Commerce now is accepted as the standard name for commercial organizations through the United States. Of 3,000 such organizations in the United States, 80 per cent are now known as chambers of commerce.

Bethlehem Ladies Aid

The new officers for the coming year were elected yesterday:
President—Mrs. William Olson.
Vice President—Mrs. Anton Gilbertson.

ALUMNI MASS MEETING

To be Held in High School Assembly Room, 8 O'clock Sharp This Friday Evening

(By A. J. S. Class of '21)

Tonight in the high school assembly will be held a large mass meeting of all alumni of B. H. S. This meeting should interest every graduate of the Brainerd high school and will give those who have suggestions to offer a chance to present them to the alumni as a whole. At the class reunion of the class of '21, on Thursday evening everyone present thought it a good plan to organize all the alumni into one large Alumni Association. Once such an organization is started much can be accomplished in civic matters. Some high schools in Minnesota have had Alumni Associations and enjoyed homecomings for forty years and more. Surely the graduates of the Brainerd high school can organize and successfully run an association.

Every alumnus of B. H. S. who possibly can should attend this meeting and help to make a reality of the ideas of those interested in organization.

STORIES OF VENIZELLOS' BIRTH

Two Legends Told, One of Them Narrated by the Great Greek Statesman Himself.

There are many legends surrounding the birth of Venizelos. According to one, his mother went to the Monastery of the Virgin near Canea to pray for a son, promising the child should be born in a cattle shed after New Testament tradition. Another tells the same story with this addition: When the abbot christened Venizelos he uttered, following the mother's wish, these prophetic words: "I baptize thee Eleutherios, for thou shalt deliver our long-suffering island from the tyranny of the Turks."

In the "Life of Venizelos," by S. B. Chester, still another story is told, based on incidents narrated by the Greek statesman himself at a dinner party in London. His parents, having already lost three children, decided to follow the local custom and adopt him as a foundling. There was a superstition that the child would survive only if treated in this fashion. Eleutherios was duly taken away from his mother and deposited on a heap of dry leaves outside the house. Passing by soon afterward, some friends, who, of course, played their role in the secret, "discovered" the child, brought him to his parents and urged that they adopt him as a foundling. They did, and Eleutherios survived and prospered.

LAW HAD BIBLICAL SANCTION

West Virginia Mayor Couldn't See Where Autoist Had Any Reason for Complaint.

Law founded on the Bible is good enough for Mayor Gilmore of Morgantown, W. Va. A local man charged with not having the tail light burning on his automobile was arraigned before the mayor, who assessed a fine of $3.

The accused protested, said that it was a poor law under which he was fined and that he did not think it would hold water in court.

The mayor declared any law founded on the Bible was good enough for him. The defendant said he couldn't see where a tail light had anything to do with the Bible. The mayor looked pityingly at the accused and said:

"Do you remember the tale about the ten virgins, five of whom had lights and five of whom didn't? Well, if you do, you will remember that the Lord wouldn't have anything to do with the five without lights, and neither will this court."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Miniature Libraries.

A curious idea in book making is offered by a firm of French publishers. Their plan consists of substituting for the large pages of the average books microphotographic reproductions of them to be read through a magnifying glass.

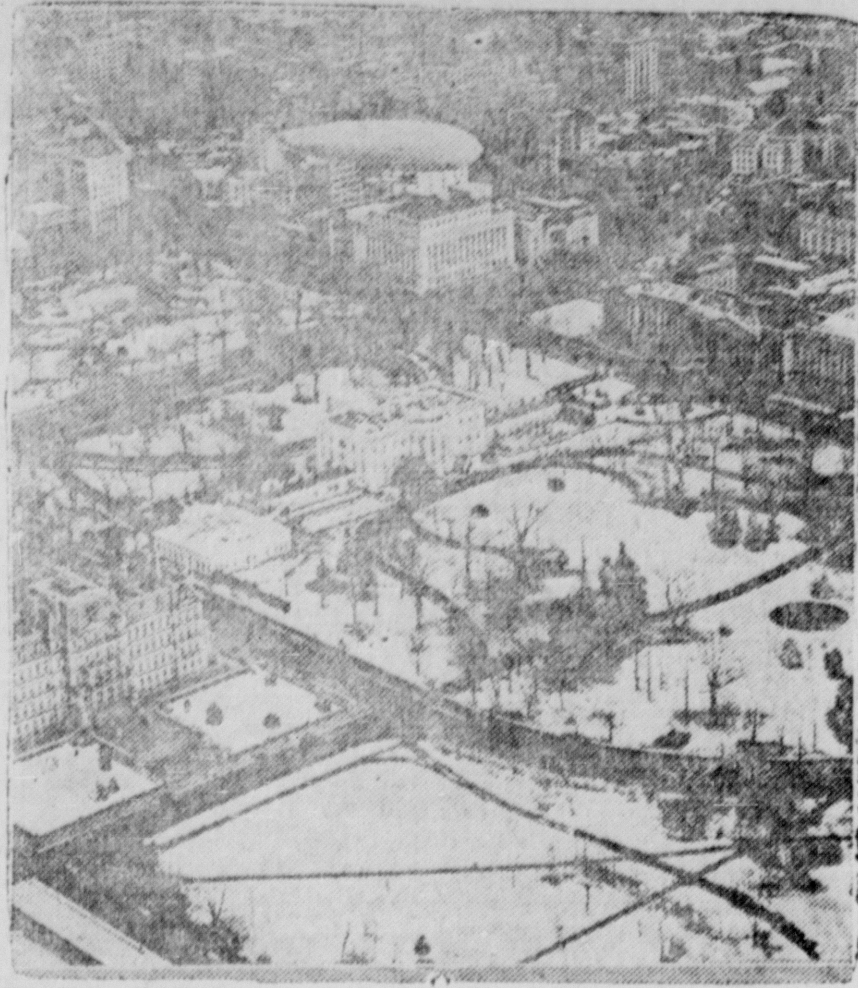

It is proposed that the size of the plates representing pages should be internationally standardized, so that any one possessing the magnifying apparatus would be able to read any book produced in this way. No technical difficulties are said to be in the way.

It is claimed that the cost of production would be enormously reduced. Also it would greatly reduce the work of libraries now cumbered by books of every shape and size. The plates would be, moreover, of a fire-proof and durable material, while the system admits of an edition being enlarged to any dimension desired in accordance with demand.

Making Library Helpful.

Presuming that a public library is so well conducted that its custodians are able to direct applicants promptly to the volume asked for, the next step for an ideal institution would be to advertise the treasures which it holds in trust for all citizens. It would appear that the Newark (N. J.) library has reached the second stage, for it has been distributing circulars telling how the ambitious worker may educate himself by reading, and how the library can help him to find just the right things to read. Taking a cue from the methods of writers of eye-catching advertisements, the Proud South American Cities.

If Caracas claims the title of "The Paris of the New World"—and so they called the Venezuelan capital in the century past—we ought to remember that Bogota, Colombia's capital, was early in the sixteenth century famed as "The Athens of South America." This city, founded in 1538, was a center of culture, before Harvard university had been thought of. Cartagena Colombia, is fondly known as "The Heroic City," or "The Cradle of South American Liberty."—New York Evening Post.

Engine Wrongly Blamed.

A very nervous man bought a motor car and a friend asked him to give him a lift. They found themselves in a crowded street.

The friend said: "Jim, your engine is knocking badly." "Don't be a fool," was the reply. "That's my knee."

Whence the "Spit Curl."

The curl over the forehead, as worn by young ladies of today, has a very long literary history, having been mentioned before the time of Shakespeare, and probably has existed for many centuries. A very antique statue depicts Opportunity as having a bald head, save for one lock of hair in the center of the forehead. This was to show that there was but one chance to take advantage of an opportunity. Doubtless the belles of that day, taking the lesson taught by the marble to heart, began to wear a similar lock. The practice has continued to the present day.

The curls are made to adhere to the forehead by the application of any one of many modern substances made expressly for that purpose. These curls are called by the commonality, "spit curls," but this is a misnomer and misleading.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH

YOU CAN'T ENJOY LIFE with a sore, sour, bloated stomach. Food does not nourish. Instead it is a source of misery, causing pains, belching, dizziness and headaches.

The person with a bad stomach should be satisfied with nothing less than permanent, lasting relief. The right remedy will act upon the linings of the stomach, enrich the blood, aid in casting out the catarrhal poisons and strengthen every bodily function. The large number of people who have successfully used Dr. Hartman's famous medicine, recommended for all catarrhal conditions, offer the strongest possible endorsement for
